

My Violin Journey

Violin performances

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation, for my student Inaaya Gulati. I have known and taught Inaaya for the last 8 years and it will not be an exaggeration to say that, it is only rarely, that I have had a student as committed and focused as she is.

Inaaya almost never missed a violin lesson, whether during school hours or after school. Her ability to balance all aspects of her school programme, her academic learning, alongside her passion for music is admirable. She has grown not just as a musician but as a confident, poised young woman, who knows her mind and is more than willing to walk the extra mile to fulfil her dreams.

As a student of music, she has grown into a fine violin player. Her learning skills and dedication towards learning the violin is praiseworthy and she has progressed from a beginner to a mature violin player in the past 8 years. She has a great ear for classical music. She has performed with élan on numerous occasions in school and in orchestras held for the nearby community.

Every year, for the last 5 years, she has won awards for her outstanding contribution to the Performing Arts in Vasant Valley School and has also appeared for the Grade 4 Trinity College Music Examination. Due to Covid-19 she has been unable to appear for her Grade 6 examination which we have deferred to January. She was a valuable member of the Strings Orchestra in Vasant Valley School and is also associated with the Delhi Community Orchestra. As a performer in the Orchestra, Inaaya has shown an excellent ability to work in a group. Her superb interpersonal and communication skills are evident both as a leader and a follower of directions.

Her contagious passion for music has motivated many of the younger students in Vasant Valley School. Teaching her has been an enriching and fulfilling experience and I am confident that Inaaya will add value to any institution she goes to.

I highly recommend Inaaya as a well-rounded individual, who combines her superior cognitive skills with a deep understanding of music. I am sure she will continue to grow in all aspects and will excel in all areas of study.

Sincerely,

Ganesh Dutta

It is with great pleasure and indeed a privilege that I write this letter for my violinist Inaaya Gulati.

The Global Music and Art is a platform that aims to promote young talented musicians who perform live for appreciative communities across India. The most recent event was held in Delhi on 29 October'22 called the Alive Show 2022-23.

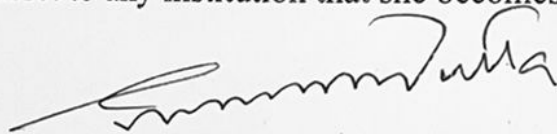

Inaaya was a committed fund raiser for the event and participated as a violinist in the band. She has a keen interest in learning new and creative music pieces. This is reflected in the way she has participated in the group discussions during practice sessions for the performance. She has the talent to expand her learning out of the music sheet. The whole process has been a great learning experience for her. She has improved on her interpersonal skills as well as learnt how to perform in the midst of a group of musicians while holding her own.

I believe that she will continue to grow as a violinist. The dedication with which she has raised funds for this venture and the passion she has shown while performing, make me believe that she will certainly continue to engage in many more community efforts and spread the joy of live music as far and wide as she can.

Her consistent performance in the orchestra for the past 5 years has shown a steady curve of growth as a musician and person both.

At last, I would say that associating with Inaaya was a fun and good learning experience. It was wonderful for me to have a lovely performer like her to mentor.

Undoubtedly Inaaya is a focused child with a good academic potential and given a challenging learning situation she has the capability of excelling. I am sure a student like Inaaya will be an asset to any institution that she becomes a member of.
